Later Mr. Crist and the late Frank Mason formed a partnership and started in business in a store located on W. Main street where the Circle theatre now stands.

Mr. Crist then constructed the Crist building on N. Court street, recently occupied by the Penney store, and the dry goods business was conducted in that store under the partnership from 1896 to 1924.

In 1924, Mr. Crist and his son, Wallace, opened the present store at Main and Court streets, after the building had been remodeled and improved.

RIVER MENACING LOWLAND FIELDS

Scioto Bank Full at 10.35 Stage; Heavy Downpour North Blamed

Rains north of Circleville Thursday boosted the Scioto river to 10.35 feet at 7 a. m. Friday, putting flood waters in the lowest parts of the river lowlands.

Dr. H. R. Clarke, weatherman, said the stream would probably continue to rise, but he was uncertain what peak might be expected. The stream was 8.6 feet, Thursday morning. A stage of 10.35 feet puts the stream "bank full."

Showers struck Columbus on Thursday night. The rainfall here in the 24 hours preceding 7 a. m. Friday amounted to only .02 of an inch.

The highest temperature recorded Thursday was 85 degrees. High winds fanned the city Thursday night. The lowest temperature during the night was 77 degrees.

Continued warm weather with possible thundershowers were on the weather forecast for Saturday. No break in the heat wave was in sight.

MRS. HOULIHAN, NATIVE OF CITY, DEAD IN WEST

Charles H. Niles, S. Washington street, received word Thursday of the death of his cousin, Mrs. Mary Rudy Houlihan, in El Monte, California. Mrs. Houlihan, wife of James Houlihan, was a native of Circleville.

She was born Feb. 28, 1871, a daughter of Daniel and Mary Ziegler Rudy, extensive land owners. In 1880 the family removed to Nashville, Tenn., and later to California.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Houlihan is survived by three brothers and two sisters, Charles, Daniel and Henry Rudy, Mrs. Christine Haller and Mrs. Catherine Moore, all of California. A brother, Jacob, died less than a year ago.

Funeral services will be Saturday at the Church of the Flowers in Glendale, Cal.

SCHOOLS TO GET STATE'S FUNDS TO RETIRE BONDS

Pickaway county will receive $15,482 and Circleville $4,921 in a distribution of $4,037,308 in cash to Ohio school districts by the state department of education, to completely retire outstanding notes issued last February under the School Foundation program.

An earlier payment of approximately $7,000,000 was made several weeks ago to liquidate the first portion of the first quarter's allocation of notes.

Approximately $11,000,000 in second quarter notes, issued two months ago, are still outstanding in the hands of school districts.

Recorder's Report of Deeds, Leases and Mortgages Is Completed

Many Properties Freed of Debt During Year

Pickaway county's average acreage valuation moved up $10 during the last year.

This increase was revealed Friday in a report of deeds, leases and mortgages completed by Mrs. Florence Campbell, county recorder. The report, covering the year ending June 30, will be submitted to the secretary of state.

The average acreage valuation during the last year was $66.59, the report shows, as compared to about $56 in 1936. It was $58.49 in 1935 and $43.16 in 1934.

Deeds Explained

Mrs. Campbell's report shows deeds on agricultural lands, other than those listing nominal considerations, totaled 58, covering 5,789.01 acres with considerations amounting to $385,461.73. Ten deeds were filed on lands within corporate limits, valued by the acre. They included 3.94 acres worth $20,810. Those on city, town and village lots, other than for nominal considerations, totaled 76 with a valuation of $107,498. Deeds for nominal considerations amounted to 195 covering 14,919.76 acres. The grand total on all deeds was 337 covering 20,712.71 acres. Total consideration was $513,769.73.

The 1936 report showed 521 deeds involving 25,086.77 acres with consideration totalling $474,250.36.

Only seven leases on agricultural lands were filed during the year. They covered 1,272.75 acres used as game refuges. Nineteen leases were filed on city, town and village lots for $40,916. The previous year 20 leases were filed involving $16,729.

LEGION TO PLAN NEW HOLLAND'S FETE THIS FALL

New Holland's annual fall festival will be staged on the streets of the village Sept. 8, 9, 10 and 11. The festival will be held in the evenings.

Members of Arch Post, No. 477, American Legion, at a recent meeting decided there will be no platform dance in the street this year. The platform last year acted as a blockade to the large crowds attending the festival. This year the dance will be on the town hall floor.

The location of the festival this year will depend largely on what progress is made on the resurfacing of Route 22, east of the village.

Legionnaires hope to obtain a carnival for the celebration.

Bids To Be Opened Monday For Restroom Installation

Soldiers Mass; Parley Called

TIENTSIN, July 16.—(UP)—Japanese and Chinese soldiers fought a battle on the Tientsin-Peking highway today as Japanese army officers and Chinese officials began negotiations to liquidate the crisis caused by clashes in the Peiping area.

Japanese sources said that Chinese troops fired on a Japanese detachment camping at Anping, 27 miles southeast of Peiping on the highway. The Japanese counter-attacked, the dispatch said, and disarmed 100 Chinese. No mention was made of casualties.

Both armies continued to mass men, and another Japanese destroyer arrived at Tangku on the coast near here, ready for war if today's negotiations failed.

Japanese army men demanded that the semi-autonomous Hopel-Chahar political council administering the affairs of northern China assume responsibility for all North China affairs, particularly as regards Chinese-Japanese relations, to the exclusion of the national Chinese government.

This Chinese negotiators refused to do.

Chinese officials cognizant of the negotiations were deeply pessimistic. This was taken to indicate that the possibility of real resistance to Japan was remote unless the national government moved actively in support of the northern officials.

Reliable sources at Nanking told the United Press that Gen. Sung Cheh-Yuan, chairman of the Hopel-Chahar political council and commander of the 29th army which clashed with the Japanese, was practically a Japanese prisoner. They said he would not be permitted to leave Tientsin if negotiations failed.

"Loyal" Membership of Union Now More Than 3,000,000

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(UP)—The American Federation of Labor announced today that its counter-attack on the unionization drive of the Committee for Industrial Organization already has netted 650,000 new members, bringing the "loyal" membership of the federation to $3,091,049.

John P. Frey, president of the Metal Trades department and instrumental in the suspension from the A. F. of L. of 10 C. I. O. unions, said this constituted a replacement of more than three-fifths of the membership lost by the action.

Frey disclosed that the federation is seeking to establish a new method of collective bargaining to offset any advantages which the C. I. O. S industrial unionism may have.

20 KNOWN DEAD IN INDIANA COAL MINE EXPLOSION

SULLIVAN, Ind., July 16.—(UP)—Twenty families who live on what their men can earn in the black pits of Indiana's soft coal fields gathered up their meagre savings today to bury the men who perished in two explosions at the Baker mine.

Each family had identified one twisted, charred victim of the blasts which shook corridors of the mine 225 feet underground, crashed the men against walls, and seared them with flame.

It was the third major mine tragedy in this town of 5,300, and Coroner Cecil Taylor ordered an inquest today to find out what caused it.

FORD MAN SAYS HE WAS MEMBER OF 'VIGILANTES'

DETROIT, July 16.—(UP)—A Ford employee testified today before the National Labor relations board that foremen made him a member of a "vigilante" group inside the vast River Rouge plant to put down any strikes or other disturbances.

The witness, Mack Cinzori, said that he was a member of the United Automobile Workers of America, and that he still was employed at the Dearborn plant.

"In June of this year my foreman took me over and introduced me to another foreman named Slim," Cinzori said. "Slim told me that he was going to form a vigilante group. He said the Ford Motor company does not believe in any kind of organizations."

"He said, 'what you're supposed to do is pick up a lead pipe and start swinging if anything happens.'"

Roosevelt Takes Lead As Robinson's Death Hits Judiciary Act

Respect For U. S. Senator Forgotten, F. D. Says

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(UP)—President Roosevelt's abrupt fight-to-the-finish orders on judiciary reorganization smashed head-on today with a congressional movement to scuttle the court bill and adjourn.

It caught adjournment forces unprepared for the maneuver by which Mr. Roosevelt became the active, aggressive leader of senators who would expand the judiciary.

Some observers believed Mr. Roosevelt also had boosted Sen. Alben W. Barkley, Dr. Ky., toward the majority leadership under circumstances which may bring a caucus showdown among senate Democrats next week not only on the court issue but on New Deal spending and its policies in general.

Barkley Would Aid F. D.

Barkley's election would boom administration prestige and place the senate in charge of a man enthusiastically committed to New Deal plans. Choice of Sen. Pat Harrison, D. Miss., the other outstanding candidate, would be viewed as notice to the White House that a majority of Democratic senators believed the New Deal was moving too fast and too far. It would be a step toward early adjournment.

The president wrote Barkley that it was the duty of congress and especially of Democrats to devise methods and enact judiciary reorganization. In razor-sharp (Continued on Page Eight)

OHIO SALES TAX TOTAL DOWN BY THREE MILLIONS

COLUMBUS, July 16.—(UP)—State Treasurer Clarence H. Knisley today reported that sales tax collections for the first half of the year had fallen approximately $3,000,000 under those of last year.

His latest report showed the yield from the sales tax for the first six months this year was $25,155,419 against $28,099,875 for the same period in 1936.

AIRPLANES STILL HUNTING AMELIA

Lexington Sends Aviators Over Big Island Area in Fruitless Quest

HONOLULU, July 16.—(UP)—Navy airmen, flying in the intense equatorial heat, continued their search today for Miss Amelia Earhart and Frederick J. Noonan, her navigator, who have been lost since July 2.

The air search, with from 40 to 60 planes participating, has covered 40,000 square miles of the Pacific ocean around Howland island in three days. Yesterday the fliers in 42 planes, zoomed off the deck of the giant carrier Lexington and criss-crossed the international dateline for hours in a futile hunt.

The search area gradually is being extended westward toward the Gilbert islands, which may have provided a haven for the fliers if ocean currents carried their plane in that direction after a forced landing.

Pearl Harbor navy headquarters branded as false rumors that the Earhart plane had been sighted by a plane from the Lexington.

These rumors were based on an assertion by an Auckland amateur that he heard one of the Lexington's planes report it had sighted the Earhart craft. Naval communications says the rumors probably arose when the amateur missed the word "if" in a plane- Lexington conversation.

Naval officials point out that many rumors originate while it is night in the searching area — when no searching planes are out on duty.

PRICES ON NEW YORK MART LOW BY TWO POINTS

NEW YORK, July 16.—(UP)—Prices drifted lower in early afternoon dealings on the stock exchange today. Losses ranged to more than two points.

New York air brake at 77 off 2 1/2 and Chrysler at 100 3/4 off 2 1/4 were heaviest losers. Bethlehem Steel was at 92 1/2 off 1 1/4; Southern Pacific 45 1/2 off 1 1/4; and Crucible Steel 71 off 1.

Most rails were off fractions to more than a point with Southern Pacific on a sharp decline in car loadings. Utilities which nearly had gains ranging to a point, lost slightly but held small advances.

Aviations, some oils and silvers were firm.

Yale Student Held Hostage For Seven Hours By Fleeing Men

MANY HIGHWAYS WATCHED

Traxler, No. 1 Bad Man, Heads Gang of Outlaws

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(UP)—Director J. Edgar Hoover of the federal bureau of investigation today ordered G-men into the search for Pete Traxler, a fugitive from a Texas prison farm, who, with two other gunmen, kidnapped the son of an oil man in their flight from prison.

SAPULPA, Okla., July 16.—(UP)—Three desperate convicts fleeing the Texas state prison farm released the 25-year-old son of an oil millionaire early today and continued their flight toward the Kansas border. They had held him seven hours as a hostage.

The hostage was Baird Markham, Jr., a student at Yale university and son of the director of the American Petroleum Institute Industries Committee. He had not been harmed and seemed to have enjoyed his experience. He was the second hostage to have been "held" by the convicts in their spectacular flight northward from Texas which began July 8 and has been accompanied by a trail of shooting and stolen cars.

The convicts were Pete Traxler, a killer and bandit and rated by authorities as the Southwest's "No. 1" badman, and Fred Tindol and Charley Chapman, gunmen. One death accompanied their escape from the Texas prison farm at Eastman. Markham believed Traxler and Chapman had been wounded.

Held Seven Hours

Markham was captured by the gunmen near Ada, Okla., and released three miles from here seven hours and 200 miles later. The convicts had wanted his car. They had taken him along to prevent him giving an alarm.

"They were going to tie me to a tree but I made a bargain with them that I would not call police until a half hour after they freed me," he said. "I kept my bargain too, because I don't want to make that bunch mad at me."

The convicts treated me graciously, Markham said, and hadn't bothered to keep him "covered" during the last four hours of his captivity. They spent their time joking about the inefficiency of peace officials. They considered their escape and flight just, he said, on the grounds that their treatment at the prison farm had been brutal.

The convicts told Markham they were heading for Canada via Tulsa. When last seen they were (Continued on Page Eight)

JAPAN BUILDING NEW PLANE FOR DISTANCE FLIGHT

LOS ANGELES, July 16.—(UP)—Japan plans to attempt to outdo Russia's long distance flight with a new plane reputedly capable of flying 9,000 miles nonstop, it was reported today.

Reports said that the flight would be financed by a private Japanese backer, probably a newspaper.

It was understood that a new low-winged monoplane was built recently by the Tokyo Gas Denki corporation with an extreme wing sweep to lift a heavy fuel load. It is highly streamlined, and powered with a single motor.

The Japanese consulate here said it knew of no such plans.

Many Properties Freed of Debt During Year

Pickaway county's average acreage valuation moved up $10 during the last year.

This increase was revealed Friday in a report of deeds, leases and mortgages completed by Mrs. Florence Campbell, county recorder. The report, covering the year ending June 30, will be submitted to the secretary of state.

The average acreage valuation during the last year was $66.59, the report shows, as compared to about $56 in 1936. It was $58.49 in 1935 and $43.16 in 1934.

Deeds Explained

Mrs. Campbell's report shows deeds on agricultural lands, other than those listing nominal considerations, totaled 56, covering 5,789.01 acres with considerations amounting to $385,461.73. Ten deeds were filed on lands within corporate limits, valued by the acre. They included 3.94 acres worth $20,810. Those on city, town and village lots, other than for nominal considerations, totaled 76 with a valuation of $107,498. Deeds for nominal considerations amounted to 195 covering 14,919.76 acres. The grand total on all deeds was 337 covering 20,712.71 acres. Total consideration was $513,769.73.

The 1936 report showed 521 deeds involving 25,086.77 acres with consideration totalling $474,250.36.

Only seven leases on agricultural lands were filed during the year. They covered 1,272.75 acres used as game refuges. Nineteen leases were filed on city, town and village lots for $40,916. The previous year 20 leases were filed involving $16,729.

409 Mortgages Listed

During the last year 409 mortgages, 150 on agricultural lands, 28 on lands in corporate limits and 231 on city, town and village lots were filed. The acreage involved was 14,674.98 with the consideration totalling $833,217.08, including $475,399.04 on agricultural lands, $27,877.91 on lands in corporate limits valued by the acre, and $329,940.13 on lots. The previous year 409 mortgages were filed.

LEGION TO PLAN NEW HOLLAND'S FETE THIS FALL

New Holland's annual fall festival will be staged on the streets of the village Sept. 8, 9, 10 and 11. The festival will be held in the evenings.

Members of Arch Post, No. 477, American Legion, at a recent meeting decided there will be no platform dance in the street this year. The platform last year acted as a blockade to the large crowds attending the festival. This year the dance will be on the town hall floor.

The location of the festival this year will depend largely on what progress is made on the resurfacing of Route 22, east of the village.

Legionnaires hope to obtain a carnival for the celebration.

Bids To Be Opened Monday For Restroom Installation

County commissioners and a councilmen will open bids Monday for construction of public restrooms in the front basement of the courthouse.

Cost of installation of the toilets will be divided by the county and city. The county will maintain them.

Soldiers Mass; Parley Called

TIENTSIN, July 16.—(UP)—Japanese and Chinese soldiers fought a battle on the Tientsin-Peiping highway today as Japanese army officers and Chinese officials began negotiations to liquidate the crisis caused by clashes in the Peiping area.

Japanese sources said that Chinese troops fired on a Japanese detachment camping at Anping, 27 miles southeast of Peiping on the highway. The Japanese counter-attacked, the dispatch said, and disarmed 100 Chinese. No mention was made of casualties.

Both armies continued to mass men, and another Japanese destroyer arrived at Tangku on the coast near here, ready for war if today's negotiations failed.

Japanese army men demanded that the semi-autonomous Hopei-Chahar political council administer the affairs of northern China assume responsibility for all North China affairs, particularly as regards Chinese-Japanese relations, to the exclusion of the national Chinese government. This the Chinese negotiators refused to do.

Chinese officials cognizant of the negotiations were deeply pessimistic. This was taken to indicate that the possibility of real resistance to Japan was remote unless the national government moved actively in support of the northern officials.

Reliable sources at Nanking told the United Press that Gen. Sung Cheh-Yuan, chairman of the Hopei-Chahar political council and commander of the 29th army which clashed with the Japanese, was practically a Japanese prisoner. They said he would not be permitted to leave Tientsin if negotiations failed.

The American Federation of Labor announced today that its counter-attack on the unionization drive of the Committee for Industrial Organization already has netted 650,000 new members, bringing the "loyal" membership of the federation to $3,091,049.

John P. Frey, president of the Metal Trades department and instrumental in the suspension from the A. F. of L. of 10 C. I. O. unions, said this constituted a replacement of more than three-fifths of the membership lost by the action.

Frey disclosed that the federation is seeking to establish a new method of collective bargaining to offset any advantages which the C. I. O.'s industrial unionism may have.

20 KNOWN DEAD IN INDIANA COAL MINE EXPLOSION

SULLIVAN, Ind., July 16.—(UP)—Twenty families who live on what their men can earn in the black pits of Indiana's soft coal fields gathered up their meagre savings today to bury the men who perished in two explosions at the Baker mine.

Each family had identified one twisted, charred victim of the blasts which shook corridors of the mine 225 feet underground, crashed the men against walls, and seared them with flame.

It was the third major mine tragedy in this town of 5,300, and Coroner Cecil Taylor ordered an inquest today to find out what caused it.

FORD MAN SAYS HE WAS MEMBER OF 'VIGILANTES'

DETROIT, July 16.—(UP)—A Ford employee testified today before the National Labor relations board that foremen made him a member of a "vigilante" group inside the vast River Rouge plant to put down any strikes or other disturbances.

The witness, Mack Cinzori, said that he was a member of the United Automobile Workers of America, and that he still was employed at the Dearborn plant.

"In June of this year my foreman took me over and introduced me to another foreman named Slim," Cinzori said. "Slim told me that he was going to form a vigilante group. He said the Ford Motor company does not believe in any kind of organizations."

"He said, 'what you're supposed to do is pick up a lead pipe and start swinging if anything happens.'"

Respect For U. S. Senator Forgotten, F. D. Says

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(UP)—President Roosevelt's abrupt fight-to-the-finish orders on judiciary reorganization smashed head-on today with a congressional movement to scuttle the court bill and adjourn.

It caught adjournment forces unprepared for the maneuver by which Mr. Roosevelt became the active, aggressive leader of senators who would expand the judiciary.

Some observers believed Mr. Roosevelt also had boosted Sen. Alben W. Barkley, Dr. Ky., toward the majority leadership under circumstances which may bring a caucus showdown among senate Democrats next week not only on the court issue but on New Deal spending and its policies in general.

Barkley Would Aid F. D.

Barkley's election would boom administration prestige and place the senate in charge of a man enthusiastically committed to New Deal plans. Choice of Sen. Pat Harrison, D. Miss., the other outstanding candidate, would be viewed as notice to the White House that a majority of Democratic senators believed the New Deal was moving too fast and too far. It would be a step toward early adjournment.

The president wrote Barkley that it was the duty of congress and especially of Democrats to devise methods and enact judiciary reorganization. In razor-sharp (Continued on Page Eight)

HOSPITAL STAFF CHIEF WOUNDED FATALLY BY GUN

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 16.—(UP)—Dr. George W. Webster, 39, chief obstetrician at Homeopathic hospital, was wounded fatally by gun fire at his fashionable home early today. He died at a hospital without naming his assailant.

All Deputy Police Superintendent James J. Cusick could draw from Dr. Webster before he died was: "I'll tell you all about this shooting if I recover."

The shooting occurred, police said, when Dr. Webster entered the vestibule of his home after garaging his automobile.

Police theorized the assailant had entered the home previously by another door.

Felled, Dr. Webster crawled through the dining room into the butler's pantry, where he telephoned police.

Police found him lying on a divan in the parlor. Taken to Homeopathic hospital, he was questioned briefly by Cusick.

Three empty .45 caliber shells were found on the hall floor in Dr. Webster's home and a brass-covered bullet was discovered in the cellar, police said.

No other members of the family were at home.

4-H Club Band Members to Wear Green, White Outfits

Arrangements were being worked out Friday for purchasing green capes and caps for members of the county 4-H club band. Club colors are green and white. Band members will wear white clothing with their green equipment.

Fifty-six attended the practice Thursday night in Memorial Hall. Miss Bernelle Goodman is director.

AIRPLANES STILL HUNTING AMELIA

Lexington Sends Aviators Over Big Island Area in Fruitless Quest

HONOLULU, July 16.—(UP)—Navy airmen, flying in the intense equatorial heat, continued their search today for Miss Amelia Earhart and Frederick J. Noonan, her navigator, who have been lost since July 2.

The air search, with from 40 to 60 planes participating, has covered 40,000 square miles of the Pacific ocean around Howland island in three days. Yesterday the fliers in 42 planes, zoomed off the deck of the giant carrier Lexington and criss-crossed the international dateline for hours in a futile hunt.

The search area gradually is being extended westward toward the Gilbert islands, which may have provided a haven for the fliers if ocean currents carried their plane in that direction after a forced landing.

Pearl Harbor navy headquarters branded as false rumors that the Earhart plane had been sighted by a plane from the Lexington.

These rumors were based on an assertion by an Auckland amateur that he heard one of the Lexington's planes report it had sighted the Earhart craft. Naval communications says the rumors probably arose when the amateur missed the word "if" in a plane-Lexington conversation.

Naval officials point out that many rumors originate while it is night in the searching area—when no searching planes are out on duty.

PRICES ON NEW YORK MART LOW BY TWO POINTS

NEW YORK, July 16.—(UP)—Prices drifted lower in early afternoon dealings on the stock exchange today. Losses ranged to more than two points.

New York air brake at 77 off 2½ and Chrysler at 100½ off 2½ were heaviest losers. Bethlehem Steel was at 92½ off 1½; Southern Pacific 45½ off 1½; and Crucible Steel 71 off 1.

Most rails were off fractions to more than a point with Southern Pacific on a sharp decline in car loadings. Utilities which nearly had gains ranging to a point, lost slightly but held small advances. Aviation, some oils and silvers were firm.

THREE CONVICTS ABDUCT SON OF OIL EXECUTIVE

Traxler, No. 1 Bad Man, Heads Gang of Outlaws

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(UP)—Director J. Edgar Hoover of the federal bureau of investigation today ordered G-men into the search for Pete Traxler, a fugitive from a Texas prison farm, who, with two other gunmen, kidnapped the son of an oil man in their flight from prison.

SAPULPA, Okla., July 16.—(UP)—Three desperate convicts fleeing the Texas state prison farm released the 25-year-old son of an oil millionaire early today and continued their flight toward the Kansas border. They had held him seven hours as a hostage.

The hostage was Baird Markham, Jr., a student at Yale university and son of the director of the American Petroleum Institute Industries Committee. He had not been harmed and seemed to have enjoyed his experience. He was the second hostage to have been held by the convicts in their spectacular flight northward from Texas which began July 8 and has been accompanied by a trail of shooting and stolen cars.

The convicts were Pete Traxler, a killer and bandit and rated by authorities as the Southwest's "No. 1" badman, and Fred Tindol and Charley Chapman, gunmen. One death accompanied their escape from the Texas prison farm at Eastman. Markham believed Traxler and Chapman had been wounded.

Held Seven Hours

Markham was captured by the gunmen near Ada, Okla., and released three miles from here seven hours and 200 miles later. The convicts had wanted his car. They had taken him along to prevent him giving an alarm.

"They were going to tie me to a tree but I made a bargain with them that I would not call police until a half hour after they freed me," he said. "I kept my bargain too, because I don't want to make that bunch mad at me."

The convicts treated me graciously, Markham said, and hadn't bothered to keep him "covered" during the last four hours of his captivity. They spent their time joking about the inefficiency of peace officials. They considered their escape and flight just, he said, on the grounds that their treatment at the prison farm had been brutal.

The convicts told Markham they were heading for Canada via Tulsa. When last seen they were (Continued on Page Eight.)

JAPAN BUILDING NEW PLANE FOR DISTANCE FLIGHT

LOS ANGELES, July 16.—(UP)—Japan plans to attempt to outdo Russia's long distance flight with a new plane reputedly capable of flying 9,000 miles nonstop, it was reported today.

Reports said that the flight would be financed by a private Japanese backer, probably a newspaper.

It was understood that a new low-winged monoplane was built recently by the Tokyo Gas Denki corporation with an extreme wing sweep to lift a heavy fuel load. It is highly streamlined, and powered with a single motor.

The Japanese consulate here said it knew of no such plans.

FIRST CONFERENCE OF OHIO RURAL YOUTH ARRANGED SEPTEMBER 7 TO 10

INVITATIONS FOR GATHERING SENT TO EACH COUNTY

Folk Beyond High School Age To Have Parts In State Discussions

O. S. U. CAMPUS SCENE

Choice of Vocations, Other Activities Possible

COLUMBUS, July 16.—Several of the agencies in Ohio who are interested in the welfare of young people on the farm have arranged to invite a delegation of young men and women from each county to attend the first conference for rural young people to be held at Ohio State University, September 7 to 10.

C. C. Lang, assistant state club leader, says that school work, vocational high school courses, and 4-H clubs provide contacts with the young folks until they are about 18 years old but after that the young men and women in the country have few opportunities to meet in organized groups. Mr. Lang believes there is a fine chance to help this youth group in their choice of vocations and other activities.

The assistant state club leader explains that in the years preceding 1932 most of the rural youth who did not expect to become farmers went to some city and obtained work. When jobs became scarce in the city, the young men and women had no choice but to stay at home. In many cases, the home farm did not yield income enough to permit the establishment of new family groups and these young men and women were caught in a net of circumstances that were beyond their control.

Young People Organized
In many counties, leaders among these young people organized groups which met once a month or oftener for study and recreation. These meetings were very useful in keeping up the spirits of a group which had many reasons for becoming discouraged. In some counties, they not only found means to keep themselves interested but also provided relaxation for parents who could find no amusement in the economic situation.

Now, the agricultural extension service, the Ohio Farm Bureau, the Ohio State Grange, county superintendents of schools, the department of vocational education in agriculture and home economics, and the Christian Youth Council of Ohio have called the conference at the University to correlate and expand some of the work done by the county groups.

A special attempt will be made to have leaders in many professions and trades tell the young people the advantages and disadvantages of their businesses so that the listeners will have some basis for a choice of work. Mr. Lang has asked that at least two and not more than 10 delegates from each county.

The delegates will be housed in

Plastic Surgery Helps Cleft Palate, Hare Lip

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
THE MOST SERIOUS and repellent of the deformities of the face are cleft palate and hare lip, or cleft lip. The cause of these deformities has never been discovered. During the formation of the body the face grows around from the back towards the front and joins in the middle. We see some remains of this union in the small depression in the lip, and in some people a depression at the tip of the nose. Also the commonest form of the cleft is a cleft in the middle of the chin.

Dr. Clending

When the two halves of the face fail to unite, a gap is seen on the side of the lip, cleft lip. This may be simple, or the cleft may extend back into the nostril and involve the hard palate, leaving an opening between the mouth and the nose—cleft palate.

About one child in every 2,500 is born with some form of this disfigurement.

Should Be Corrected

Cleft lip should be corrected at about the age of six weeks. The infant by that time is physically able to stand the strain of operation. Surgical reconstruction of the lip should be done at this time whether there is an accompanying cleft palate or not, because repair of the lip tends to make the palate come together so that there is a smaller deformity.

Surgical work on the palate is deferred by most plastic surgeons until 18 months. Closure should be attempted at this time because serious speech defects will otherwise occur—defects which in most instances can be corrected.

But it is never too late for improvement of a cleft palate. It is noticeable that small communities always have one or two cleft palate inhabitants—village eccentrics. This is because surgical work on cleft palate is a most difficult and special job, and smaller communities are without adequate facilities for this work. These people suffer a great handicap, and it should be a comfort to them to know that some correction can be made at any time, even though the good cosmetic results that can be expected in earlier life are not likely to follow.

In these late cases, and in all severe cases of cleft palate, a series of operations is usually necessary to accomplish perfect results.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clending can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clending, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

DAVEY TO STUDY STATE'S BUDGET BEFORE SIGNING

COLUMBUS, July 16.—(UP)—

Governor Davey gave indications today that he intends to weigh carefully the recently enacted biennial appropriations bill, and that he would not sign it before early next week.

"I'm going to give this bill careful consideration and I'm going to be fair about it, but it will take some time to thoroughly examine such a comprehensive measure," he said. He said there "is not a chance" that he would sign the measure this week.

State employees will have to await their regular pay checks, due yesterday, until the measure is finally approved.

In addition to the appropriations bill, the governor has under consideration five measures passed during the recent special session of the legislature.

They are: a bill appropriating $2500 for equipment at the Longview state hospital, Cincinnati; two bills allowing counties to hold special elections at the August primaries to vote extra tax levies for current operations and permitting them to issue bonds in anticipation of the collection of these levies; a bill appropriating $4,800,000 for highway construction; and a bill appropriating $50,000 for flood relief at Bellevue.

PILL SLAVE FREED FROM CONSTIPATION

A convincing tribute is paid to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in this letter from Mr. F. C. Aminsen of Seattle.

"I suffered with constipation for many years and was compelled to use pills every night. Since I got your ALL-BRAN, it works fine. I was so deathly sick of taking pills. Now it is so different. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN works so naturally, and is pleasant to eat."

Inside the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forming a soft mass that gently sponges out the intestines. It also supplies vitamin B to help tone the intestines, and iron for the blood.

You'll enjoy eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. As a cereal with milk or fruits, or in appetizing recipes. Two tablespoonsful every day are usually enough—three times daily if needed. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

lip should be done at this time whether there is an accompanying cleft palate or not, because repair of the lip tends to make the palate come together so that there is a smaller deformity.

Surgical work on the palate is deferred by most plastic surgeons until 18 months. Closure should be attempted at this time because serious speech defects will otherwise occur—defects which in most instances can be corrected.

But it is never too late for improvement of a cleft palate. It is noticeable that small communities always have one or two cleft palate inhabitants—village eccentrics. This is because surgical work on cleft palate is a most difficult and special job, and smaller communities are without adequate facilities for this work. These people suffer a great handicap, and it should be a comfort to them to know that some correction can be made at any time, even though the good cosmetic results that can be expected in earlier life are not likely to follow.

In these late cases, and in all severe cases of cleft palate, a series of operations is usually necessary to accomplish perfect results.

Leader of Elks Lodge Plans Safety Campaign

Charles Spencer Hart New Grand Exalted Ruler of Antlered Herd

DENVER, Colo., July 16.—Major Charles S. Hart of Bronville, New York, publisher, author and prominent in advertising circles for many years, has been elected Grand Exalted Ruler of the B. P. O. Elks at their 73rd national convention, Denver Colorado.

For many years Mr. Hart has been active in the affairs of the Grand Lodge of the Elks, having served as Exalted Ruler of his home lodge, Mt. Vernon, New York, and as district deputy for his district, which comprises the Elks Lodges of Westchester County, New York.

As national leader of the Elks, he is, for the term of his administration, directing the civic activities of the Order to a five point program, the chief features of which are the elimination of un-American doctrines, and what is perhaps of more immediate importance, a determined effort to reduce traffic accidents. In his initial conference with the delegates of 1372 Elk Lodges assembled at Denver, he called for the support of the entire Order in a plan to eliminate at least one known "danger spot" in every community where an Elks club is located. He further stressed the fact that there are few, if any, communities that do not harbor such road hazards which through the influence of local Elks can be eliminated.

DAVEY TO STUDY STATE'S BUDGET BEFORE SIGNING

COLUMBUS, July 16.—(UP)—Governor Davey gave indications today that he intends to weigh carefully the recently enacted biennial appropriations bill, and that he would not sign it before early next week.

"I'm going to give this bill careful consideration and I'm going to be fair about it, but it will take some time to thoroughly examine such a comprehensive measure," he said. He said there "is not a chance" that he would sign the measure this week.

State employees will have to await their regular pay checks, due yesterday, until the measure is finally approved.

In addition to the appropriations bill, the governor has under consideration five measures passed during the recent special session of the legislature.

They are: a bill appropriating $2500 for equipment at the Longview state hospital, Cincinnati; two bills allowing counties to hold special elections at the August primaries to vote extra tax levies for current operations and permitting them to issue bonds in anticipation of the collection of these levies; a bill appropriating $4,800,000 for highway construction; and a bill appropriating $500,000 for flood relief at Bellevue.

A convincing tribute is paid to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in this letter from Mr. F. C. Aminsen of Seattle.

"I suffered with constipation for many years and was compelled to use pills every night. Since I got your ALL-BRAN, it works fine. I was so deathly sick of taking pills. Now it is so different. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN works so naturally, and is pleasant to eat."

Inside the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forming a soft mass that gently sponges out the intestines. It also supplies vitamin B to help tone the intestines, and iron for the blood.

You'll enjoy eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. As a cereal with milk or fruits, or in appetizing recipes. Two tablespoons every day are usually enough—three times daily if needed. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Rev. C. E. Newton Confesses Hitting Member of His Parish With Hammer

WOMAN'S STORY IS CLUE

Member of Household Tells Preacher's Statement

PITTSFIELD, Ill., July 16 — (UP)—The Rev. C. E. Newton, frail Baptist minister, calmly faced a first degree murder charge today, declaring that in his confession to the slaying of a parishioner's wife he had offered a "plea of guilt."

Sheriff Wendell Johnson said the six-foot, 125-pound minister would be arraigned before Police Magistrate T. E. Aldrich this morning on a charge of murdering Mrs. Dennis Kelly, 45, wife of a Paris, Mo., mailman.

Mrs. Kelly was running away from her husband, Newton said in his confession. She insisted he accompany her. He refused and they quarreled. She fell and was injured. Newton thought she was dying, lost his head, struck her with a hammer "or something."

Confession Gained State's Attorney Merrill Johnston of Pike county announced the confession after an hour's questioning during which he demanded that the minister explain: How he suddenly possessed $1,930 — only $20 less than Mrs. Kelly took with her when she left home; the presence of a grave-like pit in his garage; blood stains in his car; his possession of Mrs. Kelly's clothing.

Attention was drawn to Newton Tuesday, the day Mrs. Kelly's body was found floating in the Mississippi river near Louisiana, Mo. Her husband gave police her 14-page "farewell" note in which Newton's name was mentioned. Investigators found what they said was blood and matted hair in Newton's car, and the pit in his garage.

Newton was arrested, and charged with first degree murder in Paris. Then authorities decided the murder occurred in Illinois, removed him to Pittsfield.

Miss Myra Hagan, 35, raised from childhood in Newton's home, announced suddenly to State's Attorney Thomas Proctor last night that Newton had told her he had "done away with" Mrs. Kelly.

Newton, she told Proctor, gave her the $1,930, told her it was Mrs. Kelly's. He showed her Mrs. Kelly's clothing in his car, asked her to obtain aid of his son, Noel, and to dispose of them. They burned them in a prairie Tuesday night.

The minister denied at first that he knew anything of Mrs. Kelly's death. He sat calmly in his cell, smoked cigarettes, talked to newspaper reporters.

"My family never had a better friend than Mrs. Kelly," Newton said. "I have nothing to confess."

COLUMBUS, July 16 — (UP)—Further hearing in the Committee for Industrial Organization's suit to restrain Governor Davey in use of troops to reopen struck steel mills, today had been postponed until next Wednesday in federal court here.

Opposing counsel in the suit agreed to the continuance yesterday.

When sessions resume, however, there will be three additional defendants in the case. The names of the mayors of Massillon and Canton and the sheriff of Stark county were added in addition to those in the original suit.

Morton is accused of stopping a special delivery messenger who was carrying a package into the Massillon plant of the Republic Steel Co., on June 1. He is accused of unwrapping and examining the package.

Corn Showing Progress, And So Are Potatoes in Community

By S. D. FRIDLEY
Phone Ashville 79

Some few loads of wheat came into the local elevators yesterday and graded as "very wet", but with grain driers it was safely handled without loss. Quite a few loads of corn, too, was received. Yesterday could be classed as a "most splendid" drying day for wet shock wheat.

And while telling about the wheat, why not say something about the corn? If the prospects over the county are to be judged by that of the Ashville community, a bumper crop Pickaway county is sure to have. The growing corn never appeared better than now.

But why "high hat" the potatoes? They certainly deserve some mention. John Hoover tells us that in his patch the potatoes are so large and so many in a hill that they are crowding each other out for want of room, and if you need a mess or two, all you need do is to go pick 'em up. And Bill Abbott has a lot of fine ones, too. No Ashvillians will need go potato hungry this year. And Sam Gregg says his are so big he had to go get a new pot to cook 'em in.

Ashville

Duval Grows Pumpkins And while we are on the field crops and "garden sass," why not mention Bill Duval as a coming champion pumpkin grower since the Coon Bros. have retired from the field of growers and exhibitors of fine pumpkins. Mr. Duval has grown a special variety of pie pumpkins for several years and furnishes all the Mills' restaurants in Ohio with all they use and that amounts to many truck loads. Bill says they are "setting on" now, plenty of bloom, with prospects never better than now and no one need go hungry for plenty of pumpkin pie this fall.

C.I.O.'S HEARING POSTPONED FOR NEXT FEW DAYS

COLUMBUS, July 16 — (UP)—Further hearing in the Committee for Industrial Organization's suit to restrain Governor Davey in use of troops to reopen struck steel mills, today had been postponed until next Wednesday in federal court here.

Opposing counsel in the suit agreed to the continuance yesterday.

When sessions resume, however, there will be three additional defendants in the case. The names of the mayors of Massillon and Canton and the sheriff of Stark county were added in addition to those in the original suit.

Joseph Morton, of Massillon, was served yesterday by a U. S. marshal here with a warrant and taken into custody in connection with a Cleveland federal grand jury indictment, which charged him with interfering in the delivery of U. S. mails. Morton was indicted in Cleveland along with eight others.

Morton is accused of stopping a special delivery messenger who was carrying a package into the Massillon plant of the Republic Steel Co., on June 1. He is accused of unwrapping and examining the package.

Corn Showing Progress, And So Are Potatoes in Community

By S. D. FRIDLEY
Phone Ashville 79

Some few loads of wheat came into the local elevators yesterday and graded as "very wet", but with grain driers it was safely handled without loss. Quite a few loads of corn, too, was received. Yesterday could be classed as a "most splendid" drying day for wet shock wheat.

And while telling about the wheat, why not say something about the corn? If the prospects over the county are to be judged by that of the Ashville community, a bumper crop Pickaway county never appeared better than now.

But why "high hat" the potatoes? They certainly deserve some mention. John Hoover tells us that in his patch the potatoes are so large and so many in a hill that they are crowding each other out for want of room, and if you need a mess or two, all you need do is to go pick 'em up. And Bill Abbott has a lot of fine ones, too. No Ashvillians will need go potato hungry this year. And Sam Gregg says his are so big he had to go get a new pot to cook 'em in.

Duvall Grows Pumpkins

And while we are on the field crops and "garden sass," why not mention Bill Duvall as a coming champion pumpkin grower since the Coon Bros. have retired from the field of growers and exhibitors of fine pumpkins. Mr. Duvall has grown a special variety of pie pumpkins for several years and furnishes all the Mills' restaurants in Ohio with all they use and that amounts to many truck loads. Bill says they are "setting on" now, plenty of bloom, with prospects never better than now and no one need go hungry for plenty of pumpkin pie this fall.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

An airplane that virtually flies itself, a newspaper editor who unwittingly scoops himself, and a swindler who unconsciously cheats himself, are some of the amazing ingredients that contribute to the fun in Joe E. Brown's latest laugh-vehicle, "Riding on Air," now showing at the Cliftona Theatre.

As Elmer Lane, a small town newspaper editor, Joe E. Brown proves himself a sensational news sleuth—for his rival papers—but when it comes to capturing a band of air smugglers with the use of an airplane controlled by a projected radio beam, he startsles the world and baffles a would-be embezzler.

Produced by David L. Loew, and based on Richard Macaulay's popular Saturday Evening Post stories, "Riding on Air" features Guy Kibbee, Florence Rice, Vinton Haworth, Harlan Briggs and Anthony Nace in the supporting cast. Edward Sedgwick directed the RKO Radio release.

AT THE GRAND

Jack Smart "marches on." He proves his mettle as a first rank comedian in Universal's "Girl Overboard!" now screening at the Grand theatre, after coming to Hollywood as the result of his performances for "March of Time." On that radio program he imitated the voices of such world personalities as Mussolini, Hitler, the Pope, King George and President Roosevelt. He has another comedy role in "Top of the Town."

In "Girl Overboard!" Jack Smart helps the owner of a fashionable gown shop get ashore after the man has been stabbed on a pleasure cruise ship. The police follow an important clue given by Smart.

TO OL' MAN RIVER

FRIEND SCIOTO: Please stay away from the fields of struggling corn that were re-planted after you carried on your depredations a few short weeks ago. My many farm friends suffered heavy losses when you poured your muddy waters on their splendidly - cultivated fields, and they have gone to considerable expense to strive for new crops. Corn re-planted after your flood water subsided is doing quite well. Its growth has surprised even the most hearty supporters of a re-planting program, and from all indications a fair crop will be returned despite your efforts, and providing an early frost does not cause new losses. This week you threatened again to ruin the embryonic crop by again overflowing your banks. Please, Mr. River, behave yourself; remain in the banks provided for you. The corn price is remaining fair, farmers are doing everything they can to make a livelihood for themselves, and you can be of great assistance by going along saying nothing and doing nothing but behaving.

TO THE WEATHERMAN

DEAR SIR: With July's precipitation record far above normal, you should go a little easier on your rainfall. Give farmers an opportunity to thresh their bumper wheat crops. There is much wheat waiting for combines. Weeds are keeping up with the corn. Send us some sunshine, and put the season back in balance.

TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

MEMBERS: Taking youngsters of the Children's home to the circus this week was a splendid act on the part of your organization. I have often wondered why other organizations have not entertained the children at various activities in the city and county. There is a fine group of children in the Home, and all are appreciative of the kindness shown them.

TO TOWNSPEOPLE

FOLK: A few years ago many merchants and private citizens put out fly traps in an effort to eliminate the Summer pest that seems more prevalent this year than in any recent time. These traps were constructed in a simple manner, but they did the work expected. It might be a good idea if the persons who used these fly traps would look around in out-of-the-way corners to see if they could be found and rejuvenated. If any of you know how they are constructed why not inform a neighbor or two and give them a chance to get rid of their flies. The pests are bad, and they are difficult to eliminate, but these traps brought a lot of relief when they were used before, and they would certainly answer the purpose again.

TO DOG OWNERS

FRIENDS: A warning was issued recently by the department of health of the serious danger of an epidemic of rabies at this season of the year. Dog quarantines are not new to Circleville and Pickaway county, but it seems many canine owners entirely disregard the regulations. For the protection of residents it would seem wise for officers, both city and county, to start strict enforcement. The disease is more prevalent at the present time than at any time in Ohio's history. No recent cases have been reported here. Keep it that way.

TO PROPERTY OWNERS

RESIDENTS: It has been difficult to keep yards under control this Summer due to the unusual rains, but some of you have certainly neglected the weeds around your properties. This is especially true of property owners in new additions. The weeds are not only unsightly, but they seed your neighbor's yard. Circleville should have a general clean-up week on weeds.

TO SERVICE DEPARTMENT

EMPLOYEES: You deserve praise on the efforts made in improving some of the city streets. Those you have cut up and rolled are in good condition. The only question is how many of them will you be able to complete this Summer. If a major street repair project is to be developed, it should be done at once, and the work started at soon as possible. Residents are becoming rather disgusted with Circleville's streets.

TO MOUNT OF PRAISE

OFFICIALS: The keen interest in your camp meeting programs is clearly shown in the fact that 13 lots on the new addition to the grounds have been taken for cottages. Your attendance this year should be the largest in the history of the institution. Business conditions are improving. Every year more persons are appreciating the value of a vacation offering relaxation combined with a program of spiritual enlightenment.

TO COUNCIL

GENTLEMEN: When do you expect to expect to consider installation of more traffic lights in Circleville? You certainly realize that this city has a definite need for more lights, and in delaying their installation, you are encouraging serious accidents. Complaints are continually being made about speeders. Lights at some of the dangerous intersections would slow down traffic and bring about safer driving. Consider some speed signs for the corporation limits when you discuss lights.

World At A Glance

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

Supreme court validation of the Wagner labor relations law may not have aggravated labor troubles throughout the United States, but it is a fact that such troubles have been getting worse since the law was judicially upheld.

At least the law hasn't prevented this aggravation.

There was no reason to expect that it would. All it seeks to do is to entitle labor to negotiate collectively with employerdom. It doesn't specify that they must come to terms. If, after negotiation, no agreement is arrived at, a fight remains, as much as ever, the only means by which a decision can be arrived at.

KICKING UP DUST
If anything, the law has helped to precipitate a struggle.

It definitely has aligned the opposing interests.

Employerdom, to be sure, was in a stand-pat position already. Labor's consolidation, however, was not so clearly legalized. It is now. Heretofore, on labor's side, the clash has more or less hung cohesion in labor's ranks as well as in capital's.

The two rival elements "go to the mat" accordingly.

In short, the Wagner law "pitches the ring" for the contest. In the long run it may be a good thing to have had the battle over, but it kicks up a deal of dust at present.

C. I. O. BIG FACTOR

It isn't the Wagner law's validation alone that has hastened a showdown.

The activities of John L. Lewis' C. I. O. is an important factor in the situation.

The C. I. O., less than a year old, made an excellent get-away with its labor program. It can't afford to delay in its effort.

"Quick work" must be its motto, by all rules of sound strategy.

The Wagner act's validation helps it. The two influences are interdependent.

Moreover, the C. I. O. must "hump" itself to be beforehand with the A. F. of L., which belatedly begins to recognize that the C. I. O. is getting the jump on it.

PSYCHOLOGICAL
This, too, is the psychological moment for labor to assert itself. With times picking up, labor is in demand once more. There still is a lot of unemployment but a scarcity of the best selection of workers.

The A. F. of L. is getting some of the benefit of it, but the C. I. O., under John L. Lewis' more aggressive leadership, is profiting by it still more handsomely.

This recently was demonstrated by the Newspaper Guild's affiliation of itself with the C. I. O. The guild didn't disassociate itself from the A. F. of L., with which it previously had been allied, but the presumption is that the A. F. of L. will unload the guild, as it generally has done with its affiliates which have turned C. I. O.-ward.

WORRIES

Well, the capital-and-labor situation in this country verges on the revolutionary.

It worries the administration—no mistake about it.

It worries the capital, too. We're so accustomed to accepting everything "as is" as a permanency that we can't believe that it really signifies anything.

Still, there's a certain amount of fretting about it.

Not that we're not getting out of this depression! But the next one?

CHAPTER 48

MARCIA woke from a deep sleep the next morning, to see the homely face of Marie silhouetted against the curtainless window.

"Hello," she said in some confusion. "Then as recollection flooded upon her, she said, 'Oh, how is Gary this morning? And how did you get here so quickly? I'm so glad you're here. So glad.'"

"Whoa. Take it easy; just one thing at a time," Marie soothed her, realizing that the girl was still in a daze. "Gary is as well as can be expected. We won't know how he's going to pull through for several hours. I flew down as soon as I could get to a plane this morning. I thought those planes could travel fast—why, I'm surprised that the kite could stay up in the air, at the slow rate it was going!" Marie was talking of inconsequential things while she studied Marcia.

Suddenly the girl's eyes filled with tears, and she turned to the woman who was now sitting on the side of her narrow hospital cot.

"Oh, Marie—it's all my fault," she wept. "He only drank because he was so disappointed with me; he really wasn't on a regular spree. And Sandy thought he was helping. It's all been such a terrible mess."

Marcia gathered the girl into her arms, consoling her as best she could. Between breaths Marcia told her the whole story, how Gary had planned the festive celebration; how she had gone against her better judgment, and tried vainly to postpone the proposal she knew was on the tip of his tongue.

"He took it like a soldier, I thought. We drank a toast to our continued friendship, and he seemed to have hold of himself. It wasn't until after—"

"Sandy!" Oh, what will they do to him? Is he still in jail?"

Marcia shook her head in perplexity. She had been too concerned with Gary's welfare to think of the other man.

Marcia jumped from her bed, mumbling something about getting to Sandy.

"If he said what you told me he did, he probably won't want to see you," Marie told her. "This Mike Borst seems to be on the job; I think you'd better leave that to him." Wisely, she soothed the overwrought girl, then took her down to the hospital coffee shop for some nourishment.

"You'd think it was my cousin instead of yours," Marcia told her. "You have been so calm, and I—I've just gone to pieces. I never dreamed things like this could happen. I feel as if I were personally responsible—just as if I'd deliberately shoved Gary down those stairs, and had Sandy blamed for it."

Between gulps of hot coffee, Marie talked philosophically. "You can't take the blame for the whole thing, my dear. It's not your fault that you couldn't come to love Gary. You would have done him a greater injustice if you'd accepted him in a half-hearted pitying way. He'll pull through this, and even get over the unhappiness you've had to bring him. Come, let's talk to Dr. Winters now."

"I'm inclined to give him the benefit of the doubt," that bespectacled old gentleman told them. "He has a surprising amount of resistance in that slender body of his. Loss of blood is his main trouble just now, but we gave a transfusion this morning that has strengthened him. I expect the crisis this afternoon, so just be brave."

The day passed slowly, with the two women alternately encouraging each other. Marcia called Mike and felt relieved to learn he was on the job to help Sandy. She asked him if Paula had been down to the jail, and was pleased that Mike had been in the dark as to the identity of this girl.

"Either she hadn't gone to him, or—maybe Sandy hadn't wanted to worry her," Marcia thought, and wished she could go to him where they were sitting. "I think I have good news for you, ladies," he said with a broad smile of satisfaction on his shining face. "Mr. Warren has rallied a little, and asked for you, Miss Madden."

With sudden and almost paralyzing relief, Marcia sank back on the hard davenport. Seeing the end of the nervous vigil which she and Gary's cousin had kept, she suddenly let go.

"Come, now," said the physician. "Are you trying to give me two patients where I only had one before? Brace up and go talk to the lad. But I'm warning you not to stay; he's not completely out of the woods yet."

The three walked down the long, awesome hall, and Marcia thought of that other time she had faced an emergency in just such a setting when Ellen was sick. Fearfully, she wondered what Gary's mental attitude would be, if he would blame her for the disastrous events of the night before.

It was with some trepidation that she entered the door which Dr. Winters was holding for her. On the bed, lying extremely flat and still, she saw Gary. With the clumsiness that most healthy people feel in facing anyone seriously ill, she walked stiff-legged to the bedside.

"Hello, Gary," she said, feebly. "Sorry," he said with considerable effort. "So sorry, Marcia. Don't blame yourself. Or your friend. I'll get well."

The tears flooded Marcia's eyes as she considered the thoughtfulness of the sick man on the bed, thinking of her peace of mind and of Sandy when he was wracked by pain. She nodded when he spoke, and pressed his hand in appreciation. Then catching the doctor's eye, she smiled, "I have to go now, dear. Take care of yourself; Marie and I both will be here pulling for you."

Quietly she slipped from the room and hugged Marie in her happiness.

"Now will they let Sandy free?" she asked almost before she had time to catch another breath.

"We'll have to wait until Mr. Warren is able to talk to the police, to tell them whether or not he wants to prosecute," Dr. Winters explained.

"But of course he won't," Marie disclaimed.

"Probably not. But the police will want his statement on that. They'll probably want to wait until he is definitely out of all danger; you'll have to be patient, I'm afraid."

LOVE IS STRONG

A viewless thing is the wind,
But its strength is mightier far
Than a palanked host in battle
line,
Than the limbs of a Samson are.

And a viewless thing is Love,
And a name that vanisheth;
But her strength is the wind's wild
strength above,
For she conquers shame and
Death.

TO OL' MAN RIVER

FRIEND SCIO TO: Please stay away from the fields of struggling corn that were re-planted after you carried on your depredations a few short weeks ago. My many farm friends suffered heavy losses when you poured your muddy waters on their splendidly - cultivated fields, and they have gone to considerable expense to strive for new crops. Corn re-planted after your flood water subsided is doing quite well. Its growth has surprised even the most hearty supporters of a re-planting program, and from all indications a fair crop will be returned despite your efforts, and providing an early frost does not cause new losses. This week you threatened again to ruin the embryonic crop by again overflowing your banks. Please, Mr. River, behave yourself; remain in the banks provided for you. The corn price is remaining fair, farmers are doing everything they can to make a livelihood for themselves, and you can be of great assistance by going along saying nothing and doing nothing but behaving.

TO THE WEATHERMAN

DEAR SIR: With July's precipitation record far above normal, you should go a little easier on your rainfall. Give farmers an opportunity to thresh their bumper wheat crops. There is much wheat waiting for combines. Weeds are keeping up with the corn. Send us some sunshine, and put the season back in balance.

TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

MEMBERS: Taking youngsters of the Children's home to the circus this week was a splendid act on the part of your organization. I have often wondered why other organizations have not entertained the children at various activities in the city and county. There is a fine group of children in the Home, and all are appreciative of the kindness shown them.

TO TOWNSPEOPLE

FOLK: A few years ago many merchants and private citizens put out fly traps in an effort to eliminate the Summer pest that seems more prevalent this year than in any recent time. These traps were constructed in a simple manner, but they did the work expected. It might be a good idea if the persons who used these fly traps would look around in out-of-the-way corners to see if they could be found and rejuvenated. If any of you know how they are constructed why not inform a neighbor or two and give them a chance to get rid of their flies. The pests are bad, and they are difficult to eliminate, but these traps brought a lot of relief when they were used before, and they would certainly answer the purpose again.

CIRCUITEER

TO DOG OWNERS

FRIENDS: A warning was issued recently by the department of health of the serious danger of an epidemic of rabies at this season of the year. Dog quarantines are not new to Circleville and Pickaway county, but it seems many canine owners entirely disregard the regulations. For the protection of residents it would seem wise for officers, both city and county, to start strict enforcement. The disease is more prevalent at the present time than at any time in Ohio's history. No recent cases have been reported here. Keep it that way.

CIRCUITEER

TO PROPERTY OWNERS

RESIDENTS: It has been difficult to keep yards under control this Summer due to the unusual rains, but some of you have certainly neglected the weeds around your properties. This is especially true of property owners in new additions. The weeds are not only unsightly, but they seed your neighbor's yard. Circleville should have a general clean-up week on weeds.

CIRCUITEER

TO SERVICE DEPARTMENT

EMPLOYEES: You deserve praise on the efforts made in improving some of the city streets. Those you have cut up and rolled are in good condition. The only question is how many of them will you be able to complete this Summer. If a major street repair project is to be developed, it should be done at once, and the work started as soon as possible. Residents are becoming rather disgusted with Circleville's streets.

CIRCUITEER

TO MOUNT OF PRAISE

OFFICIALS: The keen interest in your camp meeting programs is clearly shown in the fact that 13 lots on the new addition to the grounds have been taken for cottages. Your attendance this year should be the largest in the history of the institution. Business conditions are improving. Every year more persons are appreciating the value of a vacation offering relaxation combined with a program of spiritual enlightenment.

CIRCUITEER

TO COUNCIL

GENTLEMEN: When do you expect to expect to consider installation of more traffic lights in Circleville? You certainly realize that this city has a definite need for more lights, and in delaying their installation, you are encouraging serious accidents. Complaints are continually being made about speeders. Lights at some of the dangerous intersections would slow down traffic and bring about safer driving. Consider some speed signs for the corporation limits when you discuss lights.

CHAPTER 48

MARCIA woke from a deep sleep the next morning, to see the homely face of Marie silhouetted against the curtainless window.

"Hello," she said in some confusion. "Then as recollection flooded upon her, she said, 'Oh, how is Gary this morning? And how did you get here so quickly? I'm so glad you're here. So glad.'"

"What? Take it easy, just one thing at a time," Marie soothed her, realizing that the girl was still in a daze. "Gary is as well as can be expected. We won't know how he's going to pull through for several hours. I flew down as soon as I could get to a plane this morning. I thought those planes could travel fast—why, I'm surprised that the kite could stay up in the air, at the slow rate it was going!" Marie was talking of inconsequential things while she studied Marcia.

Suddenly the girl's eyes filled with tears, and she turned to the woman who was now sitting on the side of her narrow hospital cot.

"Oh, Marie—it's all my fault," she wept. "He only drank because he was so disappointed with me; he really wasn't on a regular spree. And Sandy thought he was helping. It's all been such a terrible mess."

Marcia gathered the girl into her arms, consoling her as best she could. Between breaths Marcia told her the whole story, how Gary had planned the festive celebration; how she had gone against her better judgment, and tried vainly to postpone the proposal she knew was on the tip of his tongue.

"He took it like a soldier, I thought. We drank a toast to our continued friendship, and he seemed to have hold of himself. It wasn't until after—" and suddenly Marcia stopped short. "Sandy? Oh, what will they do to him? Is he still in jail?"

Marcia shook her head in perplexity. She had been too concerned with Gary's welfare to think of the other man.

Marcia jumped from her bed, mumbling something about getting to Sandy.

"If he said what you told me he did, he probably won't want to see you," Marie told her. "This Mike Borst seems to be on the job; I think you'd better leave that to him." Wisely, she soothed the overwrought girl, then took her down to the hospital coffee shop for some nourishment.

"You'd think it was my cousin instead of yours," Marcia told her. "You have been so calm, and I—I've just gone to pieces. I never dreamed things like this could happen. I feel as if I were personally responsible—just as if I'd deliberately shoved Gary down those stairs, and had Sandy blamed for it."

Between gulps of hot coffee, Marie talked philosophically. "You can't take the blame for the whole thing, my dear. It's not your fault that you couldn't come to love Gary. You would have done him a greater injustice if you'd accepted him in a half-hearted pitying way. He'll pull through this, and even get over the unhappiness you've had to bring him. Come, let's talk to Dr. Winters now."

"I'm inclined to give him the benefit of the doubt," that bespectacled old gentleman told them. "He has a surprising amount of resistance in that slender body of his. Loss of blood is his main trouble just now, but we gave a transfusion this morning that strengthened him. I expect the crisis this afternoon, so just be brave."

The day passed slowly, with the two women alternately encouraging each other. Marcia called Mike and felt relieved to learn he was on the job to help Sandy. She asked him if Paula had been down to the jail, and was pleased that Mike had been in the dark as to the identity of this girl.

"Either she hadn't gone to him, or—maybe Sandy hadn't wanted to worry her," Marcia thought, and wished she could go to him where they were sitting.

"I think I have good news for you, ladies," he said with a broad smile of satisfaction on his shining face. "Mr. Warren has rallied a little, and asked for you, Miss Madden."

With sudden and almost paralyzing relief, Marcia sank back on the hard davenport. Seeing the end of the nervous vigil which she and Gary's cousin had kept, she suddenly let go.

"Come, now," said the physician. "Are you trying to give me two patients where I only had one before? Brace up and go talk to the lad. But I'm warning you not to stay; he's not completely out of the woods yet."

The three walked down the long awesome hall, and Marcia thought of that other time she had faced an emergency in just such a setting when Ellen was sick. Fearfully, she wondered what Gary's mental attitude would be, if he would blame her for the disastrous events of the night before.

It was with some trepidation that she entered the door which Dr. Winters was holding for her. On the bed, lying extremely flat and still, she saw Gary. With the clumsiness that most healthy people feel in facing anyone seriously ill, she walked stiff-legged to the bedside.

"Hello, Gary," she said, feebly. "Sorry," he said with considerable effort. "So sorry, Marcia. Don't blame yourself. Or your friend. I'll get well."

The tears flooded Marcia's eyes as she considered the thoughtfulness of the sick man on the bed, thinking of her peace of mind and of Sandy when he was wracked by pain. She nodded when he spoke, and pressed his hand in appreciation. Then, catching the doctor's eye, she smiled. "I have to go now, dear. Take care of yourself, Marie and I both will be here pulling for you."

Quietly she slipped from the room and hugged Marie in her happiness.

"Now will they let Sandy free?" she asked almost before she had time to catch another breath.

"We'll have to wait until Mr. Warren is able to talk to the police, to tell them whether or not he wants to prosecute," Dr. Winters explained.

"But of course he won't," Marie disclaimed.

"Probably not. But the police will want his statement on that. They'll probably want to wait until he is definitely out of all danger; you'll have to be patient, I'm afraid."

Supreme court validation of the Wagner labor relations law may not have aggravated labor troubles throughout the United States, but it is a fact that such troubles have been getting worse since the law was judicially upheld.

At least the law hasn't prevented this aggravation.

There was no reason to expect that it would. All it seeks to do is to entitle labor to negotiate collectively with employerdom. It doesn't specify that they must come to terms. If, after negotiation, no agreement is arrived at, a fight remains, as much as ever, the only means by which a decision can be arrived at.

KICKING UP DUST

If anything, the law has helped to precipitate a struggle.

It definitely has aligned the opposing interests.

Employerdom, to be sure, was in a stand-pat position already. Labor's consolidation, however, was not so clearly legalized. It is now. Heretofore, on labor's side, the clash has more or less hung fire.

Today, under the Wagner law, there is governmentally recognized

cohesion in labor's ranks as well as in capital's.

The two rival elements "go to the mat" accordingly.

In short, the Wagner law "pitches the ring" for the contest.

In the long run it may be a good thing to have had the battle over, but it kicks up a deal of dust at present.

C. I. O. BIG FACTOR

It isn't the Wagner law's validation alone that has hastened a showdown.

The activities of John L. Lewis' C. I. O. are an important factor in the situation.

The C. I. O., less than a year old, made an excellent get-away with its labor program. It can't afford to delay in its effort. "Quick work" must be its motto, by all rules of sound strategy.

The Wagner act's validation helps it. The two influences are interdependent.

Moreover, the C. I. O. must "hump" itself to be beforehand with the A. F. of L., which belatedly begins to recognize that the C. I. O. is getting the jump on it.

PSYCHOLOGICAL

This, too, is the psychological

moment for labor to assert itself.

With times picking up, labor is in demand once more. There still is a lot of unemployment but a scarcity of the best selection of workers.

The A. F. of L. is getting some of the benefit of it, but the C. I. O., under John L. Lewis' more aggressive leadership, is profiting by it still more handsomely.

This recently was demonstrated by the Newspaper Guild's affiliation of itself with the C. I. O. The guild didn't disassociate itself from the A. F. of L., with which it previously had been allied, but the presumption is that the A. F. of L. will unload the guild, as it generally has done with its affiliates which have turned C. I. O.-ward.

WORRIES

Well, the capital-and-labor situation in this country verges on the revolutionary.

It worries the administration—no mistake about it.

It worries the capital, too.

We're so accustomed to accepting everything "as is" as a permanency that we can't believe that it really signifies anything.

Still, there's a certain amount of fretting about it.

Not that we're not getting out of this depression! But the next one?

Poems That Live

LOVE IS STRONG

A viewless thing is the wind,
But its strength is mightier far
Than a phalanx host in battle
line,
Than the limbs of a Samson are.

And a viewless thing is Love,
And a name that vanisheth;
But her strength is the wind's wild
strength above,
For she conquers shame and
Death.

OHIO HAS MORE PIGS, BUT NATION FIGURE IS LOW

COLUMBUS, July 16 — Pigs in Ohio and fewer pigs means less hogs next fall and that was the situation in the United States but not in Ohio on June 1, 1937, according to L. H. Barnes, department of rural economics, Ohio State university, who says the spring pig crop in this state was 5 per cent larger than last year's total.

Ohio farmers were better supplied with feed grains and were able to hold more brood sows than growers in some parts of the corn belt. The reduction in the spring pig crop for the entire United States was 7.3 per cent from 1936 figures. However, producers may expect a decline of 7 per cent in sows farrowing in Ohio this fall while the decline over the whole country will be only 3.4 per cent.

The spring pig crop in states where the drought was worst last summer was reduced 16 per cent this year. Some of those states normally produce large numbers of hogs so the reduction is marked than if it had occurred in sections where few hogs are grown.

The June 1 survey disclosed a decline in the United States of 4 per cent in the numbers of hogs six months or more old, as compared with the numbers for the same class of hogs last year. That is a decline of 933,000 hogs in this classification.

Mr. Barnes says the expected decline in total spring and fall pigs farrowed over the country as compared with 1936 is 4,000,000. The change in Ohio for the number of spring pigs saved is an increase from 2,073,000 in 1936 to 2,168,000 in 1937.

The university economist points out that any study of the expected pork supply in the United States must take into consideration storage stocks of pork and lard. Lard in storage on June 1 was 60 per cent above average and 95 per cent above the stocks held on June 1, 1937. Mr. Barnes believes that notwithstanding the storage stocks, hog prices will continue fairly high through 1937 and the forepart of 1938.

Meade Spills Earful DiMaggio to Hit 53

Newark Called Greatest

Eddie Meade is in town piloting that tough little hombre Henry Armstrong. Eddie hasn't had a champion since Joe Lynch was boss of the bantams. . . but he says Henry is king of two divisions, though uncrowned. . . Henry can get down to 126 and knock Pete Sarroff's ears off. . . or can blow up to lightweight proportions and bash the bezer off Lou Ambers. . . says Eddie Meade. . . and the few glimpses we've had of Armstrong make his talk sound very convincing. . . Sioux City operatives write "this man Manders, of University of Iowa, cousin of Bob Feller, is positively a better pitcher than Fedder." . . One of the fine characteristics of the late Jack Curley was his loyalty to newspaper men. . . once a sports editor for a wire service wrote some pretty hot stuff in a scathing expose of the wrestling trust. . . and got into trouble. . . though the copy was a blast at Mons. Curley's very broad and butter, he went unsolicited to the young man and helped him out of the jam. . . testifying that it was all too true.

Except for a habit of picking the Cleveland Indians to win the pennant, this corner has prognosticated in high gear all year. . . and now wishes to record one more for the books. . . Joe DiMaggio will belt 53 home runs this year. . . Lefty Gomez went the route 14 times in his first 18 starts. . . Nashville has heard that Charley Dressen, manager of the Reds, is coming back to Nashville, and a new manager will take over the Reds. . . the Reds haven't quite clicked up to training camp talk in which somebody was mentioning a pennant, if I remember correctly.

Lee Handley turns out to be a nice find for the Pirates at record base. . . but Cookie Lavagetto, the lad sent to Brooklyn when the Bucs got Handley, also is proving he's a good ball player. . . The Newark Bears are being called the greatest minor league club of the last 15 years. . . with a lead of something like 20 games over the nearest rival. . . That international match race between Greyhound and Musketone probably will be trotted at Goshen early in August. . . with each owner putting up a $10,000 side bet and the track furnishing a $10,000 purse. . . with a return race in Milan, Italy. . . Lowell Spurgeon, captain-elect of football at University of Illinois, will take a West Point exam next winter.

Jack Kearns says they ought to hold the Louis-Farr fight in a telephone booth because only three guys are going to pay to see it. . . J. (Red) Everest, once wealthy trainer of the president of Cuba's horses, died in Detroit the other day at 61. . . he left $80 and a horse named Salford. . . the old trainer refused to undergo an operation that might prolong his life. . . declaring he always had lived by the rule of "what the Lord giveth, the Lord taketh away."

Old Wiley Moore, former pitcher of the Yankees, still is pitching relief roles at Kansas City. . . Bill Delancey, Cards' catcher whose health failed two years ago, is bench manager at Albuquerque in the Arizona-Texas league.

ARMY ATHLETES TO TANGLE WITH CONTAINER CORP.

Battery Company and Container Corporation will open the second half race in the softball league Monday evening on a field in the rear of the strawboard plant. George E. The remainder of next week's schedule follows:
Tuesday: Cooper Oils vs. Kings-ton.
Wednesday: Coca Cola vs. Sohio.
Thursday: Athletic Club vs. Yellowbud.
Friday: Sohio vs. Container Corporation.

About This And That In Many Sports

By BILL BRAUCHER

Meade Spills Earful

DiMaggio to Hit 53

Newark Called Greatest

Eddie Meade is in town piloting that tough little hombre Henry Armstrong . . . Eddie hasn't had a champion since Joe Lynch was boss of the bantams . . . but he says Henry is king of two divisions, though uncrowned . . . Henry can get down to 126 and knock Pete Sarron's ears off . . . or can blow up to lightweight proportions and bash the bezer off Lou Ambers . . . says Eddie Meade . . . and the few glimpses we've had of Armstrong make his talk sound very convincing . . . Sioux City operatives write "this man Manders, of University of Iowa, cousin of Bob Feller, is positively a better pitcher than Fedder." . . . One of the fine characteristics of the late Jack Curley was his loyalty to newspaper men . . . once a sports editor for a wire service wrote some pretty hot stuff in a scathing expose of the wrestling trust . . . and got into trouble . . . though the copy was a blast at Mons. Curley's very broad and butter, he went unsolicited to the young man and helped him out of the jam . . . testifying that it was all too true.

Except for a habit of picking the Cleveland Indians to win the pennant, this corner has prognosticated in high gear all year . . . and now wishes to record one more for the books . . . Joe DiMaggio will belt 53 home runs this year . . . Lefty Gomez went the route 14 times in his first 18 starts . . . Nashville has heard that Charley Dressen, manager of the Reds, is coming back to Nashville, and a new manager will take over the Reds . . . the Reds haven't quite clicked up to training camp talk in which somebody was mentioning a pennant, if I remember correctly.

Lee Handley turns out to be a nice find for the Pirates at second base . . . but Cookie Lavagetto, the lad sent to Brooklyn when the Bucs got Handley, also is proving he's a good ball player. . . The Newark Bears are being called the greatest minor league club of the last 15 years . . . with a lead of something like 20 games over the nearest rival . . . That international match race between Greyhound and Muscletone probably will be trotted at Goshen early in August . . . with each owner putting up a $10,000 side bet and the track furnishing a $10,000 purse . . . with a return race in Milan, Italy . . . Lowell Spurgeon, captain-elect of football at University of Illinois, will take a West Point exam next winter.

Jack Kearns says they ought to hold the Louis-Farr fight in a telephone booth because only three guys are going to pay to see it . . . J. (Red) Everest, once wealthy trainer of the president of Cuba's horses, died in Detroit the other day at 61 . . . he left $80 and a horse named Saiford . . . the old trainer refused to undergo an operation that might prolong his life . . . declaring he always had lived by the rule of "what the Lord giveth, the Lord taketh away." . . . Old Wiley Moore, former pitcher of the Yankees, still is pitching relief roles at Kansas City. . . Bill Delaney, Cards' catcher whose health failed two years ago, is bench manager at Albuquerque in the Arizona-Texas league.

ARMY ATHLETES TO TANGLE WITH CONTAINER CORP.

Battery Company and Container Corporation will open the second half race in the softball league Monday evening on a field in the rear of the strawboard plant, George E. Hammel, league president, has arranged for the diamond, which will be used as long as the electric company field is too wet for play.

The remainder of next week's schedule follows:

Tuesday: Cooper Oils vs. Kings-ton.

Wednesday: Coca Cola vs. Sohio.

Thursday: Athletic Club vs. Yellowbud.

Friday: Sohio vs. Container Corporation.

MAN MOUNTAIN HURT

LOS ANGELES, July 16—(UP)

—Man Mountain Dean, one of organized wrestling's odder offerings, rested his 300 pounds in a hospital bed today, his leg fractured in a match last night with Sandor Szabo.

YESTERDAY'S HERO—George

Caster of Philadelphia who turned in the best pitching performance in the majors. He doled out five hits for the Athletics first win in their last 16 games.

West's Q won. The club Ace was returned for another ruff by South and the heart K now drew the remaining adverse trumps. At this point the declarer had lost one club and one heart and could afford only one more loser. He found a way to limit his losers to just one more by tossing the spade K on the heart K. A second diamond finesse was played and the diamond Ace cashed. Now the spade Ace followed by the spade 3, put East in the lead. ## THREE CONVICTS ABDUCT SON OF OIL EXECUTIVE

Yale Student Held Hostage
For Seven Hours By Fleeing Men

heading northward toward the Kansas line. One posse was in pursuit and peace officials in towns along the main highway through Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, and Iowa were on the alert for them.

Markham's father is a brigadier general in the army reserves and is a former adjutant general of Oklahoma. He has been interested in oil in Ada and Oklahoma City, but, since his elevation to the head of the Petroleum Institute has made his home in New York City.

Working in Oil Field
Young Markham, who will be a Yale junior next year, is spending the Summer working as a field man for the W. A. Delaney Petroleum company of Ada.

He was driving along an oil field road when the convicts, in a stolen car, overhauled him, forced him to stop, then climbed into his car with him and fled. They were armed with pistols and a rifle.

A few minutes later they passed a car driven by M. R. Laves, a geologist and friend of Markham. Laves spoke. Markham did not answer, but looked at him, appealingly. Laves, knowing something was wrong, notified authorities.

Identified Markham's companions as the convicts. Posses raced northward along the main highway, but without success. Anxiety for Markham was becoming acute, when he reported himself free and safe.

Markham said the convicts drove slowly and carefully and along the principal roads. They didn't rob him of his money.

The convicts were three of the nine men who broke from the East-ham farm near Weldon. A posse pursued them on the same day caught up with them and killed J. D. Reid, one of their number. Soon afterward four more were retaken.

Another Wounded
Traxler, Tindol, Chapman, and Walter Blanton fled northward in a stolen car. Blanton separated and went on his way. Wanting the car of J. C. Dunlap, 37, they engaged him in a gun battle, wounded him in the hand, and fled in his car, taking him along as a hostage. Later they held up Harry Domain, constable at Trinity, Tex., and took his car. Still later they stole a car from Texas state highway police. Then, yesterday, they stole another car at a resort near Allen, Okla., which they were driving when they met Markham.

MRS. SIMON, 76, DIES
Mrs. Charlotte Steinhour Simon, 76, died Thursday at her home, 746 Adams avenue, Chillicothe. The funeral will be Sunday at 2 p. m. at the home. She was related to several Pickaway county residents.

ious year total of mortgages filed was 325, involving 17,868.64 acres with the consideration listed at $832,732.08.

Although more mortgages, involving more land were cancelled in the last year, they failed to amount to the total value of cancellations during the previous year, reports revealed. Cancellations during the last year were 477, involving 19,320.89 acres for $1,025,976.57.

The 1936 report showed total cancellations of 311, embracing 13,477.27 acres with consideration of $2,715,416.83. The 1936 report, however, included a two million dollar utility mortgage cancelled. ## THREE CONVICTS ABDUCT SON OF OIL EXECUTIVE heading northward toward the Kansas line. One posse was in pursuit and peace officials in towns along the main highway through Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, and Iowa were on the alert for them.

Markham's father is a brigadier general in the army reserves and is a former adjutant general of Oklahoma. He has been interested in oil in Ada and Oklahoma City, but, since his elevation to the head of the Petroleum Institute has made his home in New York City.

Working in Oil Field

Young Markham, who will be a Yale junior next year, is spending the Summer working as a field man for the W. A. Delaney Petroleum company of Ada. He was driving along an oil field road when the convicts, in a stolen car, overhauled him, forced him to stop, then climbed into his car with him and fled. They were armed with pistols and a rifle.

A few minutes later they passed a car driven by M. R. Laves, a geologist and friend of Markham. Laves spoke. Markham did not answer, but looked at him, appealingly. Laves, knowing something was wrong, notified authorities who, from his description, identified Markham's companions as the convicts. Poses raced northward along the main highway, but without success. Anxiety for Markham was becoming acute, when he reported himself free and safe.

Markham said the convicts drove slowly and carefully and along the principal roads. They didn't rob him of his money.

The convicts were three of the nine men who broke from the Eastham farm near Weldon. A posse pursued them on the same day caught up with them and killed J. D. Reid, one of their number. Soon afterward four more were retaken.

Another Wounded

Traxler, Tindol, Chapman, and Walter Blanton fled northward in a stolen car. Blanton separated and went on his way. Wanting the car of J. C. Dunlap, 37, they engaged him in a gun battle, wounded him in the hand, and fled in his car, taking him along as a hostage. Later they held up Harry Domain, constable at Trinity, Tex., and took his car. Still later they stole a car from Texas state highway police. Then, yesterday, they stole another car at a resort near Allen, Okla., which they were driving when they met Markham.
